

SWITCH TO SECURE VIDEO CONFERENCING
PRESENTING AIRTEL BLUEJEANS

The last few months have witnessed a paradigm shift in business operations, making way for what can be termed a new normal.

The changed spectrum is heavily reliant on remote operations and 'working from anywhere' culture.

With the very idea of workplaces changing so rapidly, the need for video conferencing tools has increased manifold. Smart conferencing, virtual meetings, and holistically reformed digital interactions are now the norm. However, cybersecurity remains a key necessity for enterprises and secure video conferencing will play a critical role in their transition to the new normal.

The need of the hour for Indian enterprises

Security and Confidentiality

Your business needs secure video conferencing that ensures complete confidentiality of sensitive and business-critical meetings. Meetings and discussions need to be carefully monitored to prevent uninvited participants from joining your meetings.

Data Localisation

Businesses need services hosted in India for a better conferencing experience.

Timely Support Services

Enterprises need video conferencing solutions providers to have the means to offer localised support services to make their business processes more agile and flexible.

Productivity and User Experience

For a seamless experience with the customers or employees, businesses are looking for better audio/visual experience, intuitive interface and smart features to make their conversations more productive and result oriented.
